Roger the Scanner Guy

Wednesday-Wednesday, Happy Hump Day! Well I got my swim trunks yesterday from Kingsize.com; Quite snazzy little design on them. I was happy my package did not get ripped off, there'd be no reason to wear them then. I was on Facebook checking out news items, saw a picture of a foot with flesh eating bacteria on it. It was from a beach in Fort Myers Florida. People are getting flesh eating bacteria from the beach and the surf in Fort Myers. This fella lost his feet. I lost my swimsuit; there goes Summer just like all the others. I'd never put on a swim suit anyway to go to the beach. I'm older, big and embarrassed. At best I'd put on the trunks and spray myself with the garden hose to cool off. After I ordered the trunks I thought "What the HELL did I buy these damn things for?" If I put on those trunks and went to the beach I'd probably get arrested for assault for blinding people, or indecent exposure. I don't think there's a Decent Exposure charge on the books. I would never get past East Beach Tacos anyway. Oh Well, I have not swam in the ocean for many years. I'm one of those stand up swimmers. I only swim in 4 feet of water or less. When I first got to Santa Barbara, I got drunk and swam a little past the wharf. I could not figure out how to get back and went out further and further. I was lucky someone saw me and swam out to help me back or I might still be out there somewhere.

It sure was HOT on Monday. I did not think about it so much reporting on the fire, I just keep listening and posting. I got two fans; neither one was on. I did throw some bottled water in the freezer to cool down. Well the 4th of July is coming up real fast here and there's Fireworks and drought. I don't know how the Mesa Fire started up there in Lompoc. There was a report of a juvenile running from the area of where the fire started. I don't know if it was arson or fireworks had anything to do with it. I hope not, I would hate to see a kid ruin their life early in the game. I used to do all that stuff when I was a kid. This kid I knew a couple HOODS over from me blew his arm off - his arm! - messing with homemade fireworks. I had a firework called a Silver Salute go off near my shoulder once. Those are a bit bigger than M-80's. It screwed my hearing for a long time, plus I got a bit of a burn from it. I was lucky it didn't take off part of my head. Fireworks are dangerous, even sparklers. I used to think that they were the least dangerous, but they can burn you pretty good. I used to throw them up in the air when I was a little kid, and every time one landed on a house I'd pray to Thy Great Dog in Thy Sky it would not catch on Fire. There really is no such thing than "Safe and sane fireworks". Just the term "Fireworks" doesn't sound Safe or Sane. Even professionals that work with them get hurt on occasion. The show should be OK. Shooting them over the water from the beach with responders standing by. But as far as shooting off fireworks in populated areas or Another dog transported to the Animal Shelter after their parent was involved in an accident, and a cat was transported to the cat shelter after their parent was taken away on a 5150 Hold. It breaks my old heart to hear these calls. Poor little doggies and kitty. It makes me want to grab my Joey Cannoli and give him a big hug but I don't think he'd go for it. Anyway, that's enough outta me for now. Have a Great Hump Day, Belinda and Pooh Bear willing we will see you on FRYday. Later, Roger

My own little kitty is on my lap while I read my morning edhat. I'm giving him some extra love today. I totally agree Roger, breaks my heart what happens to innocent animals. In a perfect world no animal would ever suffer or feel lost, confused or unloved. Blessings on you and Joey and thank for all that you do for the edhat community.

Dispute over parking spot on San Andres!!! That doesn't surprise me. Every time a new person moves into the area, they don't seem to have a clue about parking, without screwing it all up!!! I've been blocked-in a few times, but luckily, I have more than one car. And, quite a few times, I've left nice notes on cars reminding them to be aware and courteous about how they park their cars (or scooters). Yes, there is a scooter that will park in a spot big enough for a car!!! I'm surprised that scooter hasn't been picked up and put on the sidewalk!!

The fact that there are people around that are compassionate to animals makes me feel a little better about the 2 legged people. But I too have been losing more and more faith in human people and feel more comfortable with animal beings.

Keep on keeping on- and please don't feel self conscience about being in a bathing suit- the fact that you bought it must mean that some part of you would like to go to the beach. You should! Grab a big bottle of water, spend an hour at the beach, stop at East Beach Tacos on your way home, and feel good about feeling some sand between your toes. It's good to remember that we live in Paradise- take advantage of it while we can! (I remind myself of this too). Much love and appreciation for your kind soul sharing your words with us all.

Peace

One of the most loving, rewarding friendships I ever had was with a discarded cat, who decided I was going to give her her new home. We had 8 wonderful years together, and I still miss her every day. Adopt a used or discarded older dog or cat, and their love will reward you many times over.

Is it illegal to shoot a BB gun in SB? Curious...

Yes, the law that makes it illegal to discharge firearms within City limits applies to BB guns too.

787: Yes, I'm quite sure. In fact, you had to go out of your way to miss the very next section of the municipal code:

9.34.020 Discharge of Firearms - Authorization of City Council. It shall be unlawful to discharge any firearm of any description in the City of Santa Barbara; provided, that this section shall not be construed to prohibit:

A. Any Peace Officer or other person duly constituted and authorized by law to discharge a firearm when lawfully defending person or property; nor

B. Any citizen to discharge a firearm within any building or structure expressly constructed for and commonly used as a rifle or pistol range; and provided further, that any person desiring to operate any mechanical amusement device, which in its operation involves the discharge of any firearm, shall apply to the City Council in writing for such authorization. (Ord. 3763 §2, 1975.)
